LEADING ORGANIZATIONS

OVERVIEW

All of us are very much aware of the essential leadership transition from individual contributor to supervisor or manager with team-level responsibilities. Each of us made that transition and learned to grow as a leader. We learned the importance of setting the right example for our teams, leading in complex organizations, and leadership communications. We grew with each promotion and advancement during our careers.

There is a second major leadership transition that we do not talk about very often – the transition from senior manager to organizational leader, sometimes referred to as executive level leader. As organizational leaders, we find ourselves responsible for all aspects of the organization including those that we may not be very familiar with based on our experience and development within the organization. Our time horizons shift from months to years. Our responsibilities grow from single departments and functions to multiple departments and numerous functional areas.

The purpose of this program is to help you complete this transition; to further develop you as an organizational leader that include responsibilities for strategic leadership, organizational planning, governance, the workforce, customers, performance, quality, and culture.

Leadership is about fighting through the chaos of the moment to see and understand the perspective of the situation. It is our intent with this program that we help you with your strategic perspective so that you can be an effective organizational leader.

LEARNERS

This program is designed for managers and junior executives seeking to make the transition to organizational leader at the director, chief, vice president, or president levels. The program is based on our book, Leading Organizations: Innovating for Performance Excellence published in 2019. This book is used in conjunction with our Executive Education Program for new or emerging CEOs.

The program would also qualify for Continuing Education Units (CEU) for professional certifications with most any profession.

PROGRAM AUTHORS

The authors for this course include Dr. Olin Oedekoven, Dr. Krishnamurthy Venkateshiah, Dr. Douglas Gilberts, and Deborah Robbins. Olin is a retired brigadier general with the Army National Guard and CEO of Peregrine Global Services. Krishnamurthy is former CEO of two Indian start-ups and retired university chief executive. Douglas is a Baldrige Examiner and senior mentor. Deborah has held several senior leadership positions in government and business. Collectively, the authors of this program have a total of 80 years of experience at the highest levels of organizational leadership. Peregrine Leadership Institute, a division of Peregrine Global Services, has been conducting executive-level training and development for over 10 years.
